I will give an introduction to transaction processing in distributed algorithms and present two simple algorithms: one based on random ranks that can even be used in programmable matter and one based on the Bakery algorithm of Leslie Lamport.